Sustainability

This year, the cups for mulled wine and children's punch are available in deposit-required ceramic mugs featuring a Nuremberg-related picture. Disposable cups and plates at the food and beverage stands have been banned for years. The proven mulled wine cups are used even during the popular weekends, where most visitors visit the market. They have become a popular collector's item. A washing station for the cups is erected in a container on Obstmarkt behind the Church of Our Lady. For rubbish removal during the market, the city and vendors have agreed to separate their waste, so that wood, paper and cardboard can be recycled, making waste management environmentally friendly.

Once again, the Christkindlesmarkt will be provided with environmentally friendly electricity from renewable energy sources. To that end, the Nuremberg Group of the Bavarian State Association of Market Vendors and Showmen signed an agreement with N-Ergie, the local electricity supplier, in 2012. In addition, as in the last several years, bratwurst, mulled wine and sweets will also be available in organic quality at the Christkindlesmarkt. All vendors offering organic products will mark their booths with the same signage, which features the European organic product symbol. One can also find organic product vendors in the booth plan at christkindlesmarkt.de.

A public toilet facility (subject to charge) is located in the City Hall, Hauptmarkt 18, accessible via Rathausplatz (Cost: 0.50 Euros). An additional toilet van is located on Obstmarkt behind the Church of Our Lady. A handicapped-accessible toilet is available at both locations.
